

Las Caballeras members volunteer with Conservancy

Instead of their traditional fall Catalina Ride week, Las Caballeras members and friends visited Little Harbor with a different intent as volunteers for the Catalina Island Conservancy. Their goal for the weekend: removing barb wire (left from the ranching days) off the Trans-Catalina Trail. Armed with wire cutters and plenty of hay string they cut, folded, rolled and dragged the rusty wire off the scenic trail between Little Harbor and Two Harbors. In addition to the team of cowgirls and cowboys, participants said they appreciated Cafe Metropole for the lunch sandwiches, and the Wet Spot for the kayaks (which nobody had energy left to use). Las Callaberas members topped off the workday with a fabulous dinner at the Laura Stein Volunteer Camp catered by the Lobster Trap. Mission accomplished, Las Callaberas members are looking forward to the next Catalina Island Ride, which they have rescheduled for May 2018. Watch for them riding the island trails between Mother's Day and Memorial Day—YeeHaw! Courtesy photo